The Power of Prevention for Mothers and Children: The Cost Effectiveness of Maternal and Child Health Interventions

AMCHP is excited to release an updated issue brief, Power of Prevention for Mothers and Children: The Cost Effectiveness of Maternal and Child Health Interventions. The brief gives an overview of economic analysis of maternal and child health interventions and provides examples of how Title V programs are involved in those interventions. That and other resources can be found on the resource page for AMCHP's National Center for Health Reform Implementation.
