Pregnant Individuals

The CDC has noted that pregnant people are at increased risk of severe illness from COVID-19. Pregnant people can receive the COVID-19 vaccine. Access to emerging and accurate information is critical to assuring the best outcomes for moms and babies.

Provider & Community Resources
- Information about COVID-19 Vaccines for People Who Are Pregnant or Breastfeeding
- Vaccinating Pregnant Individuals: Eight Key Recommendations for COVID-19 Vaccination Sites
- States Implement Strategies to Safeguard Pregnant Women during the COVID-19 Pandemic
- How New York is Safeguarding Pregnant Women during the COVID-19 Pandemic
- New Jersey’s Project ECHO Builds Provider Capacity to Support Maternal and Child Health during COVID-19
- Pregnancy Care via Telehealth for Medicaid-Eligible Women during COVID-19

Patient & Family Education
- Coronavirus (COVID-19), Pregnancy, and Breastfeeding
- Information about COVID-19 Vaccines for People Who Are Pregnant or Breastfeeding
- Interview with MCHB Associate Administrator Dr. Michael D. Warren
- Importance of getting catch-up vaccines and well-child visits as soon as possible
- Maternal and Child Health Bureau’s (MCHB’s) Division of MCH Workforce Development
  - May 26 webinar: Strategies to Promote COVID-19 Vaccine among Adolescents and Their Families. We invite you to view and share the webinar recording and transcript.
- MotherToBaby
  - New! COVID-19 Vaccines
  - New! FAQs about COVID-19 Vaccines in Pregnancy & Breastfeeding

Policy Issues & Statements
- Maternal Immunization Task Force and Partners Urge that COVID-19 Vaccine be Available to Pregnant Individuals

Additional Resources
- American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists:
  - Vaccinating Pregnant and Lactating Patients Against COVID-19
- Centers for Disease Control and Prevention:
  - Information about COVID-19 Vaccines for People who Are Pregnant or Breastfeeding